Whether your kids are just starting kindergarten or are in their final year at Cambridge Gardens PS, there are many good reasons for parents to volunteer at school. Parent volunteers offer a huge resource and support base for the school community that not only benefits your kids, but will enrich the classroom and the whole school by providing students with positive interaction and encouragement.

Family and school represent the principal environments where children grow and develop, and it is recognised that parent engagement within schools is key in enhancing student achievement and well-being. Great schools value parent involvement and there are many ways to be involved and volunteer a little of your time to our great school. Of course you can be part of the P&C Association however we understand this doesn’t interest everyone so here are a couple of ideas.

DID YOU KNOW that just 20 minutes, on any day you may be available, will help the Kindergartners with their learning groups. That same amount of time could help a student struggling with reading, the most important skill for future learning. You don’t need to give up all your time, just 20 minutes a week can make a huge difference.

Speak to your child’s teacher or check the notice-board for ways you can become involved in enhancing the achievement of our school and its students.

We had an impressive turnout out to the first General Meeting of the P&C in February. So many new faces! We hope to see you all at the next one at the end of this month along with many more interested members of our school community.

The P&C would like to welcome Kindy mum Lisa Crisford who volunteered to be our new CBA school Banking co-ordinator. She will be trained up this year and take over the wonderful job done by Kathy Trewartha. Thank you everyone involved in this great program.
